

Success Stories & Quotes

A young Mother seeks help from Bay Area Crisis Nursery

---

Finding herself a single mother of twin 6 week old babies, this mother suffered from overwhelming stress. Additionally, this mother was taking prescription medicine but the use had turned into abuse. Her babies were admitted to the safety of BACN while the mother located a residential treatment program. Shortly afterward, the family was able to live together under the care of a residential treatment program, which provided the mother with the services and resources she needed to grow into a successful family.

Unexpected crisis leads Father to BACN

---

A Mother dropped her child off for a scheduled custodial visit to the Father, but never returned to pick up the child. Father would have lost his job if he did not return to work as scheduled, yet had no available childcare options. Child was admitted to BACN, and Father referred to childcare resources. Within a short time, Father and child were living together permanently and doing fine.

One step away from homeless, Mother seeks out BACN

---

A single, unemployed Mother found herself about to lose her apartment due to financial distress. Under extreme stress and fearful of losing her child if she became homeless, Mother sought out BACN where her child was admitted, and she was referred to housing agencies and employment resources. Family was reunited, with housing stabilized and employment found.

"It seems everything about this place is designed to nurture. Safety, protection, fun and a sense of home... you know this is a special place."

Corporate volunteer, employees at her firm made Easter Baskets for the children.

"In my own experience, I had nowhere to go with the baby. Usually when a crisis hits, it's unforeseen and (the people at the Bay Area Crisis Nursery) are there in that instant."

Former client, later a volunteer

www.bacn.info

BAY AREA CRISIS NURSERY
"a little heart, a little help, a lot of hope"

(925) 685-8052